

Project name:	Improvement of experimental sites for educational and research purposes
Description:	The project seeks the possibility of raising the level of humus in the soil at the experimental site by adding different amounts of substrate left over after growing mushrooms in order to issue recommendations for improving soil quality.
Webpage:
Source of finances:	County
Beneficiary:	University of Slavonski Brod
Partners:
Project budget:	50 000,00 HRK
Duration:	January 2022. – December 2022.
Location:	Slavonski Brod
Target groups:	Scientific and/or academic institutions, the local authority units, agriculturists (family farms)
Objectives:	The aim of the project is to conduct applied research on raising the level of humus in the soil with the aim of issuing recommendations to producers on how to treat the soil in order to improve quality.