

Project name:	Development of a product chain model for functional, healthy and safe foods from farm to fork based on a thematic research network
Description:	The aim of the project proposal is to develop a product chain model for functional, healthy and safe foods from farm to fork based on a thematic research network.
Webpage:
Source of finances:	European Social Fund
Beneficiary:	University of Veterinary Medicine Budapest
Partners:	Biotechnical Department University of Slavonski Brod, John von Neumann University, Széchenyi István University
Project budget:	3.650.000,00 EUR
Duration:	01/07/2017 – 31/12/2020
Location:	Budapest, Kecskemet, Gyor (Hungary), Slavonski Brod
Target groups:	Scientific and/or academic institutions, agriculturists (family farms), food industry, veterinary medicine
Objectives:	The aim of the research is to improve the yield achieved in the production of vegetables, especially berry-type vegetable species and fruit species.